Justice for Andy Lopez!

Chat (34)

"The Luis J. Rodriguez Campaign for California Governor stands with the people of Santa Rosa demanding that Sonoma County District Attorney Jill Ravitch arrest and charge Deputy Sheriff Erick Gelhaus with the murder of Andy Lopez.As candidate for governor of California, I support the demands for a community park and to bring Erick Gelhaus to justice. I grew up in poor neighborhoods like this in South Central L.A. and East Los Angeles, including incorporated county areas. I knew half a dozen kids and teens, including close friends, killed by sheriff's deputies or police without provocation or in chases in my San Gabriel Valley neighborhood during the late 1960s and 1970s."<http://rodriguezforgovernor.org/?p=104>

(b) (6), (b) (7)(C) If you don't need a membership then how come the person at the door is constantly pestering people to see their membership cards at the door? It's really a pain in the neck when you have a small child. I think maybe that person should shift to the other side of the door and help the loss prevention people get customers out the door quicker. Standing in a line to get out the door is ridiculous.

Was not "legally" allowed to purchase a children's dvd that was all over their shelves because it wasn't supposed to be out yet. Manager couldn't sell it to us even though it was their mistake. (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) Was wrongfully fitted for contacts there!! ...lost my job there..I was an employee..sent hundreds of dollars on medication. I finally went to a real eye doctor..Well long story short..they almost ruined my eyes..I cant wear contacts again EVER!! ..Found out I was legally blind and had one other disease!! Should of sued!! ..Stay clear!! Go to a REAL EYE PROFESSIONAL!!

(b) (6), (b) (7)(C) No longer shopping with Sam's Club after experience today. Was not "legally" allowed to purchase a children's dvd that was all over their shelves because it wasn't supposed to be out yet. Manager couldn't sell it to us even though it was their mistake. We spent hundreds of dollars there today and they didn't even offer us any incentive or discount for their BIG mistake.

When President Obama was running for office back in 2008, he said "I don't mind standing up for workers and letting Walmart know they need to pay a decent wage and let folks organize."

Now, we're asking him to make good on this promise by meeting with Associates like us who are standing up to make Walmart a better place to work. Sign our petition here: <http://action.changewalmart.org/obama>

We need to engage in an active participation to bring about change in our government. The Corporatists have virtually taken it over and changed ALL the rules and laws to favor them. If you are content to be a slave stay on the couch and your wishes will come true. If you want change participate in making it happen.

"The freest government cannot long endure when the tendency of the law is to create a rapid accumulation of property in the hands of a few, and to render the masses poor and dependent."— Daniel Webster

While no one expects private philanthropy to substitute its support for what are essentially federal public responsibilities, it is reasonable to ask why multimillionaires and billionaires have not used more of their own resources to supplement public money for nonprofits that assist poor and low-income people or provide cultural sustenance to their communities.

The fortunes of America's wealthiest citizens have grown exponentially over the past 20 years, making them even more capable of providing larger sums to a wider range of nonprofits. Yet they continue to spend most of their philanthropic support on universities and buildings with their names on them and very little on social services, the homeless, the hungry, and social-change groups.'

The cancellation notice was not the truth. It should have been:
 "We intend to or expect to modify your insurance."

That statement is not entirely inaccurate, but a wild overstatement--wild enough to be labeled dishonest. In fact almost everything I've heard from every side, including journalists who aren't supposed to have a vested interest in the opinions they create, have been wild overstatements--wild enough to be dishonest. That's why there seems to be no overlap at all in the liberal and conservative narratives. They are on different planets.

This is my best attempt to actually explain what happened, why, to how many, and how serious it is, and can it be fixed: ...

"Rude Mechanical" Music at Labor Rallies (11/18/13)

An article at the New York Times profiles a group of musicians who have become a familiar staple at New York City worker actions - the Rude Mechanical Orchestra. This collection of activist musicians have joined the RWDSU at many recent protests and rallies, including one in November at Dylan's Candy Bar in the Upper East Side.

Wal-Mart Could Afford to Pay 50% Higher Wages (11/14/13)

It's no secret that Wal-Mart, the world's biggest retailer, woefully underpays employees, leading to hundreds of thousands of full-time associates who live below the poverty line. Common sense has long dictated that the company - which made $17 billion in profits last year - can afford to do better by its workers.

An article at CNN Money by economic journalist Stephen Gandel reveals how much better Wal-Mart could afford to do - by his estimate a whopping 50 percent pay raise in order for Wal-Mart associates.

Call for Justice for Turkish Airlines Workers (11/8/13)

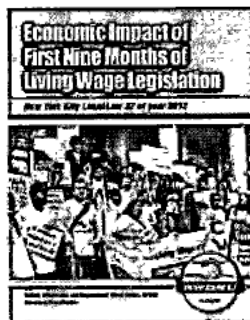

The RWDSU joined members of other unions and global trade union federation IUF this morning outside of New York City's Empire State Building to call attention to and protest Turkish Airlines for the firing of 305 workers who were standing up for their rights. The airline's offices are located in the Empire State Building.

Turkish Airlines, of which the Turkish government is the majority owner, fired the workers for protesting the draconian anti-worker laws in Turkey.

Lynn,

As requested, we provide to you a copy of (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) incredibly racist Facebook posts that a member/customer brought to the Company's attention (and which (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) admitted posting). We provide the member's actual complaint to the Company about (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) posts (in which the member attached (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) posts). Sam's Club discharged (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) based solely on those posts that violate the Company's Harassment and Discrimination and Social Media Policies, and which clearly do not constitute protected concerted activity. As we discussed, we hope by providing you this undisputable evidence early (before filing the Company's position statement), you may be able to conclude that (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) charge has no merit and that it should be dismissed (absent (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) withdrawal).

Please let us know if we can be of further assistance and if it will be necessary for us to further file a position statement.

Social Media Policy

Updated: August 1, 2013

At Walmart, we understand that social media can be a fun and rewarding way to share your life and opinions with family, friends and co-workers around the world. However, use of social media also presents certain risks and carries with it certain responsibilities. To assist you in making responsible decisions about your use of social media, we have established these guidelines for appropriate use of social media.

This policy applies to all associates who work for Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., or one of its subsidiary companies in the United States (Walmart).

Managers and supervisors should use the supplemental Social Media Management Guidelines for additional guidance in administering the policy.

Guidelines

In the rapidly expanding world of electronic communication, social media can mean many things. Social media includes all means of communicating or posting information or content of any sort on the Internet, including to your own or someone else's web log or blog, journal or diary, personal web site, social networking or affinity web site, web bulletin board or a chat room, whether or not associated or affiliated with Walmart, as well as any other form of electronic communication.

The same principles and guidelines found in the Walmart policies and three basic beliefs apply to your activities online. Ultimately, you are solely responsible for what you post online. Before creating online content, consider some of the risks and rewards that are involved. Keep in mind that any of your conduct that adversely affects your job performance, the performance of fellow associates or otherwise adversely affects members, customers, suppliers, people who work on behalf of Walmart or Walmart's legitimate business interests may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Know and follow the rules

Carefully read these guidelines, the Walmart Statement of Ethics Policy, the Walmart Information Policy and the Discrimination & Harassment Prevention Policy, and ensure your postings are consistent with these policies. Inappropriate postings that may include discriminatory remarks, harassment, and threats of violence or similar inappropriate or unlawful conduct will not be tolerated and may subject you to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Be respectful

Always be fair and courteous to fellow associates, customers, members, suppliers or people who work on behalf of Walmart. Also, keep in mind that you are more likely to resolve work-related complaints by speaking directly with your co-workers or by utilizing our Open Door Policy than by posting complaints to a social media outlet. Nevertheless, if you decide to post complaints or criticism, avoid using statements, photographs, video or audio that reasonably could be viewed as malicious, obscene, threatening or intimidating, that disparage customers, members, associates or suppliers, or that might constitute harassment or bullying. Examples of such conduct might include offensive posts meant to intentionally harm someone's reputation or posts that could contribute to a hostile work environment on the basis of race, sex, disability, religion or any other status protected by law or company policy.

Be honest and accurate

Make sure you are always honest and accurate when posting information or news, and if you make a mistake, correct it quickly. Be open about any previous posts you have altered. Remember that the Internet archives almost everything; therefore, even deleted postings can be searched. Never post any information or rumors that you know to be false about Walmart, fellow associates, members, customers, suppliers, people working on behalf of Walmart or competitors.

Post only appropriate and respectful content

- Maintain the confidentiality of Walmart trade secrets and Highly Sensitive (formerly "Private") or Sensitive (formerly "Confidential") Information. Trade secrets may include information regarding the development of systems, processes, products, know-how and technology. Do not post internal reports, policies, procedures or other internal business-related confidential communications.

- Respect financial disclosure laws. It is illegal to communicate or give a "tip" on inside information to others so that they may buy or sell stocks or securities. Such online conduct may also violate the Insider Trading Policy.
- Do not create a link from your blog, website or other social networking site to a Walmart website without identifying yourself as a Walmart associate.
- Express only your personal opinions. Never represent yourself as a spokesperson for Walmart. If Walmart is a subject of the content you are creating, be clear and open about the fact that you are an associate and make it clear that your views do not represent those of Walmart, fellow associates, members, customers, suppliers or people working on behalf of Walmart. If you do publish a blog or post online related to the work you do or subjects associated with Walmart, make it clear that you are not speaking on behalf of Walmart. It is best to include a disclaimer such as "The postings on this site are my own and do not necessarily reflect the views of Walmart."

Using social media at work

Refrain from using social media while on work time or on equipment we provide, unless it is work-related as authorized by your manager or consistent with the Company Equipment Policy. Do not use Walmart email addresses to register on social networks, blogs or other online tools utilized for personal use.

Retaliation is prohibited

Walmart prohibits taking negative action against any associate for reporting a possible deviation from this policy or for cooperating in an investigation. Any associate who retaliates against another associate for reporting a possible deviation from this policy or for cooperating in an investigation will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Media contacts

Associates should not speak to the media on Walmart's behalf without contacting the Corporate Affairs Department. All media inquiries should be directed to them.

For more information

If you have questions or need further guidance, please contact your HR representative.

This information does not create an express or implied contract of employment or any other contractual commitment. Walmart may modify this information at its sole discretion without notice, at any time, consistent with applicable law. Employment with Walmart is on an at-will basis, which means that either Walmart or the associate is free to terminate the employment relationship at any time for any or no reason, consistent with applicable law.

Guidelines

In the rapidly expanding world of electronic communication, social media can mean many things. Social media includes all means of communicating or posting information or content of any sort on the Internet, including to your own or someone else's web log or blog, journal or diary, personal web site, social networking or affinity web site, web bulletin board or a chat room, whether or not associated or affiliated with Walmart, as well as any other form of electronic communication.

The same principles and guidelines found in the Walmart policies and three basic beliefs apply to your activities online. Ultimately, you are solely responsible for what you post online. Before creating online content, consider some of the risks and rewards that are involved. Keep in mind that any of your conduct that adversely affects your job performance, the performance of fellow associates or otherwise adversely affects members, customers, suppliers, people who work on behalf of Walmart or Walmart's legitimate business interests may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Know and follow the rules

Carefully read these guidelines, the Walmart Statement of Ethics Policy, the Walmart Information Policy and the Discrimination & Harassment Prevention Policy, and ensure your postings are consistent with these policies. Inappropriate postings that may include discriminatory remarks, harassment, and threats of violence or similar inappropriate or unlawful conduct will not be tolerated and may subject you to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Be respectful

Always be fair and courteous to fellow associates, customers, members, suppliers or people who work on behalf of Walmart. Also, keep in mind that you are more likely to resolve work-related complaints by speaking directly with your co-workers or by utilizing our Open Door Policy than by posting complaints to a social media outlet. Nevertheless, if you decide to post complaints or criticism, avoid using statements, photographs, video or audio that reasonably could be viewed as malicious, obscene, threatening or intimidating, that disparage customers, members, associates or suppliers, or that might constitute harassment or bullying. Examples of such conduct might include offensive posts meant to intentionally harm someone's reputation or posts that could contribute to a hostile work environment on the basis of race, sex, disability, religion or any other status protected by law or company policy.

Be honest and accurate

Make sure you are always honest and accurate when posting information or news, and if you make a mistake, correct it quickly. Be open about any previous posts you have altered. Remember that the Internet archives almost everything; therefore, even deleted postings can be searched. Never post any information or rumors that you know to be false about Walmart, fellow associates, members, customers, suppliers, people working on behalf of Walmart or competitors.

Post only appropriate and respectful content

- Maintain the confidentiality of Walmart trade secrets and Highly Sensitive (formerly "Private") or Sensitive (formerly "Confidential") information. Trade secrets may include information regarding the development of systems, processes, products, know-how and technology. Do not post internal reports, policies, procedures or other internal business-related confidential communications.

- Respect financial disclosure laws. It is illegal to communicate or give a "tip" on inside information to others so that they may buy or sell stocks or securities. Such online conduct may also violate the Insider Trading Policy.
- Do not create a link from your blog, website or other social networking site to a Walmart website without identifying yourself as a Walmart associate.
- Express only your personal opinions. Never represent yourself as a spokesperson for Walmart. If Walmart is a subject of the content you are creating, be clear and open about the fact that you are an associate and make it clear that your views do not represent those of Walmart, fellow associates, members, customers, suppliers or people working on behalf of Walmart. If you do publish a blog or post online related to the work you do or subjects associated with Walmart, make it clear that you are not speaking on behalf of Walmart. It is best to include a disclaimer such as "The postings on this site are my own and do not necessarily reflect the views of Walmart."

Using social media at work

Refrain from using social media while on work time or on equipment we provide, unless it is work-related as authorized by your manager or consistent with the Company Equipment Policy. Do not use Walmart email addresses to register on social networks, blogs or other online tools utilized for personal use.

Retaliation is prohibited

Walmart prohibits taking negative action against any associate for reporting a possible deviation from this policy or for cooperating in an investigation. Any associate who retaliates against another associate for reporting a possible deviation from this policy or for cooperating in an investigation will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Media contacts

Associates should not speak to the media on Walmart's behalf without contacting the Corporate Affairs Department. All media inquiries should be directed to them.
